

COPELAND LUMBER COMPANY now stands where this home was built by a Mr. Belding in about 1887. It was Belding who sold the first big block of land, 600 acres comprising most of what is now Camas, to the mill company enabling them to build a paper mill here. The Belding home later became the home of another pioneer family, the James Farrells. In the picture are Marian Bruce, Frank Farrell, Mrs. Stella Farrell Hill, Pete Yettick, Harry Farrell, Miss Margaret Malone, Mrs. Harriet Farrell Klum, James Farrell, Mrs. Catherine Farrell Yettick, Mrs. James Farrell, Mrs. Tessie Farrell Wallace, Charles Wallace and their son, Merle, seated on the walk. The other three seated are visitors.--Picture loaned by Mrs. Charles Wallace.
